

HSMS002 – Health & Safety Policy

Cavendish Network Services Limited is part of the Cavendish Group and was established in 2011.

Cavendish have been able to draw on a wealth of knowledge stretching over many years and have developed expertise over a wide range of converged technology and networking solutions, delivering a quality service and products to a range of public/private sector customers across the UK.

Our core business is to provide telecommunication installation and support services to all types of organisations, including data network solutions.

Cavendish Networks strive to comply with all aspects of the BS ISO45001:2018 Standard for Occupational Health & Safety Management Systems in order to improve confidence within prospective customers, as well as our existing client base, regarding the Management of Health & Safety at Cavendish Networks.

The Management of Cavendish Networks are fully committed to all aspects of Health & Safety in order to prevent injury or ill health to any persons affected by the activities of the business.

This Policy is the framework for which Health & Safety Objectives are set out and will be continually reviewed for their suitability and performance by Management.

Management are committed to fulfilling all applicable legal requirements and any other specific requirements that relate to Health & Safety within the business.

High priority will be given to eliminate hazards and to reduce potential Occupational Health and Safety risks, which is monitored by Management.

Management are also resolved to continually improve the Health & Safety culture of the business and its integral Management System structure.

Cavendish Networks encourage open communication at all levels of the business. This includes instruction, training, consultation and participation on all matters related to Health & Safety.
